A RESUME

Of the General Result.

The election yesterday passed off quietly. But few arrests were made. Several for disorderly conduct and two for illegal registration. To the credit of both white and colored, Democrat and Republican alike, be it said that there has never been a more orderly election. The vote polled was not as large as it should have been, but the majority is greater than it was in 1884.

Outside of Jackson Ward the Republicans did not work with much vim. They weakened from the start, and were never able to rally.

In Jackson Ward they voted to the last man and carried them up on stretchers. In fact, they stretched their majority to its utmost capacity.

Soon after nightfall a large crowd gathered in front of THE TIMES building to learn the result.

The returns came in very slowly, and were announced as fast as possible. Owing to some defect in the apparatus the impressions were not as good as were desired, but they made a very good impression upon the crowd, who cheered enthusiastically every Democratic majority.

About 10 o'clock, when there was a lull in the receipt of news, THE TIMES announced that George Wise was elected by a large majority; that Hewitt had snowed Henry George under in New York, and that the Democrats had the Radicals on the run in Massachusetts, and wound up by bidding all good-night and pleasant dreams.

The crowd then good-naturedly dispersed, with cheers for Wise and the united Democracy of the land.

The elections were for Congressmen only in Virginia, Rhode Island, Maryland, Mississippi, Louisiana, Kentucky, Arkansas, Georgia, and Alabama. Twenty-six other States elected Governors and other State officers besides Congressmen.

Wise's majority,	2,107
Total vote polled, 12,787.

The Banner Precincts.

While every precinct did its duty well, too much credit cannot be awarded the First precinct of Clay Ward and the Fourth precinct of Jefferson Ward. The strongholds of the Tammany Club covered themselves with glory, and at every precinct where the wage-workers and laboring men were in the majority a solid vote was polled. Again honest mechanics of Richmond have beaten down black Republicanism and scallawaggery.

Honor to Whom Honor is Due.

The action of Mr. William H. Mullen, the labor candidate, in withdrawing, no doubt turned the tide of victory in Mr. Wise's favor, and due credit should be given to him and to Messrs. Bethel, Ryall, Connor, Devine, and in fact to all of his supporters. These gentlemen, however, took an active part in the canvass the last two days and worked with a hearty will.

Even yesterday the most slanderous stories were in circulation about Mr. Mullen in connection with this election, but he can laugh his discomfited and demoralized foes to scorn. The labor men helped to bury the Mash-Quarter candidate beyond the hope of resurrection.

As the day broke grandly and gloriously over a re-united Democracy, so the night fell on a victorious one, at least so far as this city is concerned. That is a result to be most heartily desired. Richmond must be Democratic, and her Democracy now standing together as brethren must never again wander off after strange gods. Strike every time for your rights inside the party ranks.

All honor to all who contributed to the result, and THE TIMES would like to have 2,107 first-class chromos to give out in honor of the majority for Wise and the administration.

The vote at Schumacher's precinct, in Tuckahoe district, Henrico county, is: Wise, 167; Waddill, 143. Wise's majority, 24. This is a big gain. The Confederate Soldiers' Home is in this precinct.

MANOVER.

Danville gives Cabell, Democrat, 176 majority. North Danville—Cabell, 37 majority.

Brown, Independent, reported elected in Washington special, but there is no reason for the report except conjecture.

Sixth District.

A Washington special says that Hopkins, Labor candidate, carries Lynchburg by 500 majority. Griffin is no doubt elected.

Eighth District.

ALEXANDRIA CITY.

Lee, Democrat, 1,075; Elam, Republican, 729. Lee's majority, 246.

LOUISA COURTHOUSE.

Lee, 173; Elam, 210. Elam's majority, 37.

Tenth District.

Yost, Republican, has 19 majority in Staunton. No other returns received.

ALABAMA.

HERE WE REST.

SELMA, ALA., November 2.—Returns from principal precincts of the Fourth Congressional district indicate the return of Davidson, present member, by 4,200 majority over Turner (negro Republican) and McDuffie (white Republican). Turner leads McDuffie about 2,000 votes. Indications from the State leave no doubt of the election of the entire delegation of 8 Democrats. Elections very quiet. Vote full.

CONNECTICUT.

HARTFORD, November 2.—Thirty-five towns give the Republicans 9,354; Democrats, 10,263; Prohibition, 894; Labor, 143. R. J. Vance, Democrat, has been elected in the First Congressional district.

MINNESOTA.

ST. PAUL, MINN., November 2.—The election to-day has been the liveliest ever known in the State, and an unusually large vote was polled.

Returns have begun to come in, and show large Democratic gains in all parts of the State, and it is generally conceded that Ames, the Democratic candidate for Governor, is elected with the entire Democratic State ticket.

Edmund E. Rice, candidate for Congress in the Fourth district; Judge McDonald, in the Third; and Judge Wilson in the First, all Democrats, are elected.

Knute Nelson and John Lind, in the Fifth and First Congressional districts, are the Republican Congressmen elected.

There are many country towns from which it will be impossible to get official returns till to-morrow.

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, November 2.—In 789 city election districts Hewitt has 99,264; George 64,586; Roosevelt 60,005; Wardwell 428. The total vote is now estimated as follows: Total, 230,000; Hewitt, 93,000; George, 66,000; Roosevelt, 61,000.

THE NEW YORK DELEGATION.

The following Democrats are certainly elected in New York: T. J. Campbell, S. S. Cox, W. B. Cochran, F. B. Spinola, Felix Campbell, Archibald Bliss, W. G. Stuhlman, A. J. Cummings, Gen. L. S. Bryce, and T. A. Merriam.

OHIO.

CINCINNATI, November 2.—One hundred and forty precincts out of 212 in Hamilton county show a majority for Robinson, Republican, for Secretary of State, of 4,696; Butterworth, Republican, for Congress First district, 2,500 majority; Brown, Republican, Second district, 1,600 majority. Two hundred and seventy-one voting precincts in the State show net Republican gain of 3,877 over Foraker's vote.

PENNSYLVANIA.

PITTSBURG, November 2.—Chairman Brennan, of the Democratic County Committee, concedes Beaver's election by 8,000 in the State.

Returns from Pennsylvania indicate Republican gains. The Republican majority will doubtless be 30,000.

SOUTH CAROLINA.

The next Congressional delegation will be: First district, Sam Dibble; Second district, George D. Tillman; Third district, James S. Cochran; Fourth district, W. H. Perry; Fifth district, John J. Hemphill; Sixth district, George W. Dargan; Seventh district, William Elliott (probably elected).

FROM WASHINGTON.

[Special to The Times.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 2, 1886.

Reports received here up to this hour (10 P. M.) indicate that Hewitt carries New York by 25,000 plurality. Returns from 607 districts in New York show Hewitt's vote 69,914; Roosevelt, 48,494; George, 47,087. This covers three-fourths of the voting districts of New York.

In Massachusetts Ames (Republican) is 8,000 ahead, and will probably have about 12,000 majority. Henry Cabot Lodge and Ranney are elected to Congress in Massachusetts.

The New York Times concedes Hewitt's election, and puts his vote at about 90,000. Roosevelt and George are neck and neck. Reports from Cincinnati show an increased Republican majority. Indications are that Ohio will be Republican by 15,000. No Congressional returns of sufficient importance to base any estimate on the House, though there is no reason to suppose the Democratic majority will be less than 20. Raynor (Dem.) is elected in the Fourth Maryland district by 7,648 plurality. Rush (Dem.) is elected in the Third district.

WASHINGTON, D. C., November 2.

Reports from New Jersey show a gain for the Democrats. They have elected the Governor, with the Legislature in doubt. Both Democratic Congressmen were re-elected in Florida. Blanchard, Newton, and Robertson, Democrats, elected in Louisiana to Congress. Nebraska is Republican by 25,000. The Republican majority in Ohio is about 20,000—a gain of four Congressmen. Twenty-two districts of Washington county, Md., give McComas 338 majority, with one district yet to hear from.

Latest reports from Massachusetts say the indications are that there is no choice for Governor by the people.

[Special to The Times.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., November 2.

Ranney, of Massachusetts, who made the tremendous fight for the Bell Telephone people against Garland and his company, is defeated by Morse, Democrat, by 500 majority. Foran, of Ohio, has gained in ten wards 1,040 over the vote of last year, but has yet 2,000 to overcome. Six hundred and seventy-two election districts in New York give Hewitt 77,967; George, 54,548; Roosevelt, 53,188. Smalls (colored Republican member of the House from South Carolina) sid created.

WASHINGTON, D. C., November 2.

Republicans are claiming a gain of two in Virginia. They claim the election of Yost in the Tenth and Barrier in the Ninth district. The Democrats claim they have surely elected Croxton in the First, Wise in the Third, Cabell in the Fifth, Griffin in the Sixth, O'Ferrall in the Seventh, and Lee in the Eighth district. The Republicans claim Bowden in the Second, Gaines in the Fourth, Bowen in the Ninth, and Yost in the Tenth district.

Seven hundred and eighty-nine precincts in New York give Hewitt 90,264; George, 64,586; Roosevelt, 60,000. Hewitt's vote will be about 93,000; George's, 66,000; Roosevelt, 61,000.

WASHINGTON, D. C., November 2.

Gibson, Democrat, is re-elected in the First Maryland; Show, Democrat, in the Second; Reese, Democrat, in the Third; Raynor, Democrat, in the Fourth; Compton, in the Fifth. The Sixth is in doubt. This last district is a Republican stronghold.

[Special to The Times.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., November 2.

It is reported that O'Hara (the colored Republican from North Carolina) is defeated, thus wiping out the colored representation in the next Congress.

Up to this time the Democrats have lost about eight members of Congress, and the Republicans four, making a net Republican gain in the House of four. They will gain about four more in Ohio, and thus probably cut down the Democratic majority to about 20.

The indications point to a Democratic majority of about 20,000 in New York State, though what effect it will be on the Legislature cannot yet be told.

THE LATEST FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, D. C., November 2.

New York city elects Hewitt (Democrat) Mayor by 22,000 plurality. New York State is very close, but probably Republican by a small majority. Massachusetts and New Hampshire very close; so much so that it is doubtful if the people have elected the Governor in either case. New Jersey is Democratic by a small majority, but the Legislature is in doubt. Connecticut elects a Republican Legislature. Pennsylvania is Republican by 35,000 majority. Ohio is Republican by 20,000 and a gain of four Congressmen by the Republicans. Virginia—a gain of two Congressmen by the Republicans. In Maryland all Democrats are elected except in the Sixth district, which is doubtful. Two colored Republicans are defeated for re-election in North and South Carolina. Phelan (Democrat) is elected in the Memphis district.

The House will probably be Democratic by from 15 to 25 majority; the Senate will not be materially changed, except that Indiana will likely run a Democrat to succeed Harrison, while there is possibility of a gain in New Jersey.

THE GENERAL RESULT.

The returns from the Southern States are very incomplete. It is known, however, that the Democrats have swept South Carolina, Alabama, and Georgia. The returns from North Carolina are meagre, but the chances favor the Democrats.

From the Western States but little definite news has been received. Both parties claim Ohio.

In Massachusetts the race between Andrews, Democrat, and Ames, Republican, has been close, with chances in favor of the latter. Collins is re-elected in one of the Boston districts, and Ranney, Republican, the great Bell Telephone champion, is defeated by Leopold Morse, Democrat and former member of Congress.

In Connecticut the Democrats have made a splendid fight, but the result is not known.

In New York city Hewitt is elected mayor, and the Democrats have an unbroken delegation in the next Congress. The returns received indicate the election of Peckham (Democrat) for Judge of the Court of Appeals.

In New Jersey nothing can be stated with certainty as to the result.

Pennsylvania has gone Republican, and California, it is expected, the same way.

In Maryland the Democrats elect five members of Congress, with the sixth in doubt. Victor Baughman is running Mr. Cowen (Republican) close in that district.

In Baltimore Findley, Independent, is defeated by Raynor by a large majority.

In the Richmond district Wise is certainly elected by as large a majority, if not larger, than in 1884.

Since the above was penned, later dispatches indicate the election of Green for Governor of New Jersey. In Massachusetts eight Republicans and four Democrats are elected to Congress—a Democratic gain of two. The indications are that the Democrats have carried Minnesota.

In New Hampshire, the old Granite State, the Democrats have made heavy gains, and it is not believed that there will be an election of Governor by the people.

In West Virginia Snyder (Democrat) is re-elected to Congress.

In Kentucky, Turner, Speaker Carlisle, and Breckenridge (Democrats) are certainly re-elected.

McKinney (Democrat) is reported elected to Congress in New Hampshire. New Hampshire has not had a Democratic Congressman for sixteen years.
